

Proyecto para la implementación de un programa de rehabilitación cardiaca, para pacientes cardiopatas de ambos sexos: sucre – Bolivia

Abstract

This project seeks to develop a systematic and dynamic model of attention in the field of cardiac rehabilitation. Project can be implemented in the context of hospital care in general (Hospitals first, second and third level).

This project also addresses and includes in content, relevant theoretical elements from the scientific viewpoint contributing to the formation of essential theoretical pillars that shape the proposal: "Cardiac Rehabilitation Program".

Finally, the project aims to create relevant lines of action as regards the prevention of heart disability by reducing risk factors and finally cardiac patient's reintegration into the community fully and productively.

Keywords: Cardiac rehabilitation, hospital, prevention.